

Thaw is declared insane. "Nuff said."

Why aren't a number of the intelligent ones in Dillon...

Things look promising around Jackson Springs, N. C. May those all healing Springs bring health, strength and happiness to our departed one.

Oh what if somebody wanted to get married this by a true true preacher. All the ministers are enjoyed life under vine and fig trees of other climes.

Dr. B. M. Badger has written a strong article on the subject of pallagra. There still seems to be some doubt in the minds of some as to the cause of this disease.

The Confederate Fund is nearly complete South Carolinians should show their appreciation of the undaunted valor of "Our Women In The War" by sending in their subscriptions at once to "The State" office.

The City Beautiful.

The idea of a 'City Beautiful' has spread rapidly throughout the country until every progressive city, town and hamlet has a League or some such organization working to make this land of ours a more attractive and healthy place in which to live.

League has recently placed neat covered cans along the business Streets in which to put all waste papers and other trash. The Town Council has determined to enforce the ordinance against throwing trash in the Streets and these cans may save the public from having to pay some fines at least we request the merchant and citizen to make good use of them and every body can help to keep the Streets free from paper and other trash.

The following are a few selected suggestions in regard to Civic improvement which will be of interest to all who are interested in making Dillon the 'City Beautiful'.

A few dimes and a lot of enthusiasm and determination will transform an unsightly yard into a spot of beauty. Whitewash every thing you cannot paint.

You are a link in the chain of Civic progress. Do not be a bad link and break the chain. People who live in a beautiful, improved city are healthier, happier and wealthier than those who live in a mud hole.

Mr. Frank Watkins, whose ability as a chicken raiser and gardener is widely known, is greatly distressed in the loss of one hundred and fifty fine chickens in three weeks, from the disease known as limber neck.

"The State" is publishing a series of articles from the gifted pen of Mr. A. S. Sally Jr, on South Carolina Genealogies. Mr. Sally is gifted, his mind is a veritable history in itself, and we believe that the little snap in which he was caught about Emily Geiger "only added one more laurel to his crown of fame.

FALL FLORAL SHOW.

The ladies of the Civic Society wish to remind the ladies of this section that if they are going to take part in the fall floral show, and they hope that all will take part, they ought to begin to work to that end. The ladies will ask the flower growers, of Marion, Darlington, Timmonsville, Kingstree, Dillon and all the surrounding towns and cities to enter into the competition. Florence Times.

In Memoriam.

Sacred to the memory of Josie Stubbs, aged five years and four months who passed away to the home of our Heavenly Father the night of Tuesday August 10. This dear little child endeared herself to all with whom she came in contact. Her short life was spent in doing sweet little acts of kindness to her playmates, parents, sisters, and brothers.

Mr. Dan W. Hammack, a prominent citizen of Randolph county and a member of the board of commiesicners of roads and revenues has the right idea of the good roads movement. In the Cuthbert Leader recently he had the following to say concerning the matter:

"The board has none of the fever of making automobile highways. We have no objection to their traveling on our good roads when they can be so termed, but the main thing we want is to be able to carry double the quantity in loads with less strain on teams. It is the hog, hominy and cotton man that we want first to provide for—the man that carries something to and from market. Our auto friends seldom get beyond a coca-cola or cigar purchase."

Whereas, in the allwise dispensation of God's Providence He has seen fit to take from us by death our little sister Josie Florence Stubbs, and whereas He who took little babes in His arms and blessed them and who said that out of the mouths of sucklings and babes He had perfected praise has seen fit to take her from us to Him therefore be it resolved by the Dillon Baptist Sunday School that we bow in humble submission to His holy will and we extend to her bereaved parents and relatives our heartfelt sympathy in this their irreparable loss.

Resolved further, that these resolutions be placed on our minutes a copy sent to the Baptist Courier and the Dillon Herald for publication, and a copy be furnished the parents. Done by order of the Sunday School August 15th 1909. John David, W. A. Blizard, Sect. Supt.
